Sito Club range

Design: wiege

A cantilever version of the club chair: the model with a medium-height backrest is a convincing solution due to its balanced proportions, a high degree of comfort and distinct, timelessly modern design.

The distinct appearance of the Sito cantilever chair family is marked by functional clarity and ergonomic comfort, juxtaposition of lines and surfaces, graceful design and uncomplicated elegance. Three backrest heights and upholstery variations with a slim, attached cushion or soft fill cushion provide high versatility for a wide range of applications. A further prestigious variation is now available for luxurious conference and lounge environments: Sito Club.

The Club upholstery comprises a seat and back shell with thick, air permeable, moulded foam cushions in polyurethane. An additional wool fleece overlay ensures a pleasant, natural feeling. The side facings and the fully upholstered armrests with triple stitching convey an impression of comfortable spaciousness and classical elegance. This high quality is underlined by the softness of the leather with which the backs of the seat and backrest shell are covered.

In combination with the low backrest (model 240/51), the Club upholstery looks compact and dynamic. A wide range of leather colours and surface finishes allow additional variation of the special character of Club versions.

The Club version is available with a low and medium-height backrest and in various colours of leather. The frame finishes are optionally coated in silver or black, chromium-plated or matt chromium-plated.

All Sito models with a visible plastic seat and back shell are optionally available through-dyed in black-grey or white.

Black and white

In addition to the type of upholstery, a wide choice of colours provides high versatility in adapting the appearance of the Sito cantilever chairs to individual interiors. This applies not only to frame finishes but also to the viscoelastic seat and back shells, and to the armrests. In addition to the black-grey through-dyed versions, the Sito model groups 240 and 241 (low and medium-height backrest, not upholstered and with attached cushion) are now available with white through-dyed shells and armrest pads. These versions are highly suitable for application in sales, bistro and restaurant areas or even in a home setting.

Sito Club models and Sito with white shells are already available.
